

Question:

Relating to the Period Product Act - have any evaluation processes been carried out to determine the impact of this act? That is, has it alleviated period poverty/indignity, and has it improved attendance in education for those who menstruate? If so, what were the results of this evaluation?

Response:

The Department of Health has not carried out any evaluation on the impact of this legislation.

I can advise that the Northern Ireland Executive is required to review and report on the operation of the provisions of the Period Products (Free Provision) Act (NI) 2022 and may be able to assist if you contact them directly: foi@executiveoffice-ni.gov.uk.

In addition the following report may be of interest - Period Products \(Free Provision\) Act \(Northern Ireland\) 2022 Report by the Northern Ireland Executive May 2022 - May 2025
