

Dear [REDACTED]

I fully support Justice O'Hara's call for an individual Statutory Duty of Candour for all healthcare organisations and personnel. This would mean robust legal sanctions for tampering and/or concealing evidence, and covering up mistakes, with appropriate criminal action taken against anyone who breaches this law.

This proposal should not be out for consultation with the public, but should instead have been implemented, as directed by Justice O'Hara's recommendation.

Kind regards,
